Scraping America

“Erosion is the action of surface processes that removes soil, rock, or dissolved material from one location on the Earth's crust, and then transports it to another location where it is deposited.” <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Erosion>

We have been scraping the earth into new shapes and uses since prehistory. Witness Quarry Park in Monterey. But Nature is just as eager to re-chart her position with water and time. At certain points, the two antagonists join forces to speed up erosion making parking lots and foot trails, water running and pooling where it once seeped-in: witness Yosemite National Park (3.3 million visitors in 2021). <https://www.nps.gov/aboutus/visitation-numbers.htm>

“Now erupts man-made climate change. Man-made climate changes may be due to the greenhouse effect and other human activities. A change in albedo of the land brought about by desertification and deforestation affects the amount of solar energy absorbed at the earth's surface.”

<https://www.eea.europa.eu/help/glossary/gemet-environmental-thesaurus/man-made-climate-change>

You could say that the impact of climate change includes higher temperatures + greater energy costs + damaging weather + increased land erosion.

The modern-day suburb is a shake and bake collision of man-made forces as a continuous bombardment of sun-driven weather (from climate change) takes its toll. Cities in the northeast flood while crops blow away in the Midwest. Water levels rise in Seattle and the west coast.

Climate change is a new sun-powered erosion. It attacks from above and wreaks havoc below, displacing many who are caught in its slow cooker. Now, how are corporate profits combating the powerful, solar erosion streams?

I need new memories

Can't tell you about my past
It's all dark blank
If only I could hold your hand
And dig some sunshine in bipolar sand

I need new memories

Bust the old ones

Tired of making love
To a keyboard

The voyage thru the present
With a lonely soul
Yields a capsized tale
Are you in the boat?

Wasted Water - Wasted Hearts

Forgetting and remembering

Rusty water slides and broken bubblers

Our wasted youth

remembering and forgetting

Bottled water and sunken sinks

Live toxic Mom and Dad

Forgetting and remembering

Cold showers and freezing rain

Capturing shuddering hearts
